

GRACE AYUMA

FULL STACK SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

PROFILE

I am Grace Ayuma, a passionate full-stack software developer and trainer at Gonline Africa. With a certificate in software development and a dedication to empowering others, I am committed to making a positive impact in the tech industry.

My expertise includes developing responsive web applications, facilitating training sessions, and empowering women in tech. I thrive in environments that foster creativity and continuous learning.

Driven by the belief that 'Girls don't give up,' I am passionate about helping others overcome challenges and realize their full potential. I aim to inspire others to embrace technology as a tool for personal and professional growth.

I aspire to become a CEO of a leading tech company and continue contributing to the empowerment of girls in technology across Africa. When I'm not coding or mentoring, I enjoy exploring new technologies, reading motivational books, and sharing my journey to inspire others.
